

It Lives

If love is eternal

I'd say that it is untrue

Our body and heart and mind are organic, I could name another few things that are impermanent

Even truths and ideas could change, or die

off, & lost to time

Carried by a vessel it may

so its ghost can stay alive

If love is eternal

I'd say it is untrue

But love lives

just like we do

Everything lives

at their own time.
